Re: Sole-Source Letter for Brain Chase Escape-Room STEM Enrichment Programs

To Whom It May Concern:

Thank you for considering Brain Chase for your students. This letter confirms that Brain Chase Productions, LLC is the sole developer, owner, publisher, and only authorized seller and licensor of the Brain Chase escape-room STEM enrichment programs. These programs are not available from any other source.

What makes Brain Chase unique

- Original, proprietary games. Every Brain Chase escape room is an original game created and published by Brain Chase. Programs draw on a full library of original escape-room games, refreshed each season.
- Turnkey, web-based platform. Nothing to download, and it works on Chromebooks and laptops. Programs include printable facilitator guides, worksheets, clues, and solutions, so staff can run them with little prep.
- Built for K-8 teamwork. Students work in small teams to crack codes and solve STEM, logic, and creative problem-solving puzzles against the clock.
- Senior communities. Our Holiday Escape Rooms pack includes holiday mystery games with unlimited play at your location, host training, solutions, and walkthrough videos.

No distributors or resellers

Brain Chase sells and licenses these programs directly. We have no distributors, resellers, or other authorized sellers, and no other party may sell, license, or sublicense Brain Chase programs.

Pricing and how to purchase

Current pricing is published at brainchase.com/plans-and-pricing.

- Credit card: register and pay online at brainchase.com/plans-and-pricing.
- Quote, invoice, or purchase order: email info@brainchase.com with the program and number of sites, and we will send a quote or invoice. Our W-9 is available on request.

This letter remains in effect until revoked in writing. I certify that the information in this letter is true and accurate. Please reach out with any questions. We would love to help your students learn, laugh, and solve problems together.

Sincerely,
